Newark Academy.

Newark Academy.

By a late re-organization of this department of Delaware College, the Board of Trustees have taken measures to place it upon a new and improved foundation, and to endow it with advantages possessed by few similar institutions in the country. The Academy, heretofore merged in the College, and of course subjected to all the evils which have been found to attend the amalgamation of the two departments in the same building, and under the same government, now enjoys the privilege of a separate establishment, without losing those which result from its relation to the College proper.

A large and elegant edifice, with all the necessary fixtures of a complete boarding establishment, has been erected and turnished, in which the students of the Academy board, under the immediate charge of the Principal and his Assistants; and all its exercises are conducted on a system of its own, uninterrupted by the interests or operations of the other department. The furniture of the study-rooms and dormitories has been chosen with peculiar reference to comfort and convenience for study; and no expense has been spared in providing the apparatus necessary to render the means of instruction complete; giving to Newark Academy facilities for private study and comfortable accommodation of students, fully equal to those afforded by many of our colleges.

From its intimate relation to the College, students of the Academy enjoy many advantages not generally obtained at institutions of this kind. Those who wish to pursue some particular branch which falls more properly within the College classes. Students also of proper age and discretion, by recommendation of the Principal, and permission of the Faculty, may enjoy the use of the College Library without additional charge. Admission also may be had to the Lectures, and such the privileges of the College as can be profitably enjoyed by academical students.

The charge for Boarding, Washing, Fuel, Light, &c., with tuition in the English, Latin, and Greek, is seve

COLD SPRING WATER CURE.

This new and splendid establishment for the scientific treatment of the various diseases with which the human system is afflicted, is situated about three miles from the city of Buffalo, in a rural spot, and so accessible from all points as to be reached without inconvenience or delay.

A line of omnibuses runs from the steamboat landings in Buffalo to the springs every ten minutes.

The house and grounds are near the extensive and beautiful green-houses and nurseries of the Messra. Hodges & Bryants; and the scenery in all directions is unsurpassed, as regards either variety or beauty; embracing points of view, from which may be taken in at a glance the broad expanse of Lake Eris, the Niagara flowing majestically towards the Falls, extensive forests, and the "Queen City of the Lakes," with its moving panorama of steamboats and ceaseless enterprise.

The water, taken immediately from the celebrated "Cold Spring," is unsurpassed as regards coldness and purity, by any in the United States. The house, recently erected at a cest of about seven thousand dolfars, has been fitted up in a neat and elegant style, at considerable extra expense, and is sufficiently capacious to accommodate seventy-five patients.

Connected with the establishment, and constituting one of its attractions, are the fixtures and conveniences for innocent and healthful gymnastic exercises.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The institution is under the general supervision of S.
M.Davis, M. B., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in Central Medical College, and Geo. W. Davis, M. D., formerly of Dansville, N. Y., the resident physician, and is permanently associated with the before mentioned gentleman as counsel, and associate of the medical board of control. And the friends of the establishment deem it a matter of felicitation that the services of Miss Mary M.
Taylor; a lady of high medical attainments, who has attended two courses of lectures in the Central Medical College, have been secured, and that female patients can at any time avail themselves of her invaluable aid and counsel.

The steward's department is under the control of a gentleman eminently qualified for that position; and unwearied pains will be taken to have every thing appertaining to the establishment arranged on a plan, and conducted in a way, to ensure the comfort, and promote the health and happiness of all who may wish to avail themselves of its benefits. Baths of all descriptions, adapted to the cure of the various forms of disease, and constructed on a scale not inferior to those of any other establishment in this country.

An enlightened public sentiment has everywhere repudiated a reckless use of drugs in the treatment of disease;
while indoerable sufferings and broken constitutions have imperatively demanded "Reform." A return from a wide and fatal departure from the simplicity of Nature's laws is called for, allike by a rational love of happiness and the deplorable exigencies of our condition. Hydropathy, or a scientific use of water as a restorative and curative agent, is a practical substitution of a simple and remarkably efficaious mode of curing the sick; for that system of drugging, depleting, and cauterizing, which, in obtaining the mastery over disease, too frequently places the patient bevor

TERMS.

For board, medical advice, attendance and nursing, &c., from $7$ to $14 per week, payable weekly, varying according to the room and attention required. Each patient will be required to furnish two linen sheets, two cotton comforters, one woollen blanket, and four towels; or, where it is not convenient for the patient to furnish them as above, they can be supplied at the establishment by paying fifty ceuts a week.

All communications for medical advice should be addressed either to S. M. Davis, M. D., or to George W. Davis, M. D., 239 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Letter from the Hon. Henry Clay:

Ashland, 20th July, 1849.

Dear Sir: I wish to express to you the gratification I derived on receiving the July number of the Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review, from viewing your portrait in the beginning, and from reading your address to your friends at the end of it. When we feel under obligations to those who have contributed to our information and amusement, we are naturally desirous to possess all the knowledge of them, of their spearance, of the features of their countenance, and of the character and habits of their mind, which we can acquire. You have placed your numerous readers (at least you have me, if I may not speak for them) under those obligations; and the number of your valuable work now before me, in some degree, satisfies the desire to which I have alluded.

I have become quite familiar with the Magazine and Review, and have no besitation in expressing my humble opinion that it is eminently entitled to the public regard and support. It collesis and arranges, in good order, a large amount of valuable statistical and other information, highly useful not only to the merchant, but to the estateman, to the cultivator of the earth, to the manufacturer, to the mariner, in short, to all classes of the business and reading community.

Entertaining this opinion, I am glad that it has been, and hope that it may continue to be, liberally patronized.

Offering you continue to be, liberally patronized.

"I have read it (Merchants' Magazine) with a good deal of attention, and have no hesitation in saying that I think it one of the most valuable periodicals that was ever published. To the merchant it seems quite indispensable, and to the statesman and man of general information almost-equally desirable. It is a grand repository of useful facts and information, which can be found nowhere so well digested and so accessible as in these numbers. I only regret that I do not own the whole work."

Letter from the Hon. Thomas H. Benton.

Washington City, April 20, 1849.

Mr. Freeman Hunt.—Sir: I owe you many thanks for the opportunities I have had to read the Merchants' Magazine, and have found it in reality to be a magazine, and that well replenished, of all the useful matter which the title would imply, and presented with a fullness and clearness which delights while it instructs. It is, in fact, a merchants' magazine in the large acceptation of the term—merchants who go between nations, whose large operations bring many departments of knowledge, and a view of the state of the world, into daily requisition. But it is not the great merchant only, but the one of more modest, but, nevertheless, of most useful operations—the merchant of the interior also—who will find this magazine to abound with the information the pursuit of his business and the cleration of the mercantile character requires. Nor is its utility at all confined to merchants, but extends to the legislator and diplomatist, and to all who are charged with managing the affairs of the nation. For myself, I have found it most useful to me in my senatorial labors, and have been in the habit for many years of carefully consulting it.

Very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

THOMAS H. BENTON.

EMy Dear Sir: Have the goodness to place my name on your list of subscribers for the Merchants' Magazine. I regard it as an invaluable work for the use of all who would understand not merely commercial operations in this extending country, but the fiscal and commercial questions involved in the administration of the government.

It was originally edited by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanns, associated with Sir Bayld Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," bough reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact and union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both, as heretofore issued.

LEVERETT'S LATIN LEXICON,

Liver T'S Latin Lexicon at Facciolati and Forcellini, and the German works of Scheller and Latememann, embracing, also, the classical distinctions of words, and the Etymological Index from Freund's Lexicon.

The present edition of this standard and favorite Latin Lexicon has been much improved by the transfer to its columns of the classical distinctions of Latin words, as given in the Lexicon of Dr. Wm. Freund, of Germany, and translated by Riddle. The classical degree of each word is indicated by a figure; for example, a word without a figure is fully classical and Occeronican; with the figures 1, 2, and 3, words are classical only in the first, becond, &c., degrees; and this distinction the student perceives at a glance. The Etymological Index also from Freund's Lexicon, has been incorporated into the present receives at a glance. The Etymological Index also from Freund's Lexicon, has been incorporated into the present receives are carefully kept of the words found in each Lexicon, which were not found in the other. On comparing these catalogues, it was found that the value and importance of the additional words found in Leverett, so far as a knowledge of the Latin language is concerned, very far exceeds that of those found in Riddle's Freund. The extensive use of Leverett's Lexicon in all parts of the country, and the preference which has been universally given to it over all similar works, render its recommendation superfluous; but attention to this new edition is predecessors of the distinguished favor which the work has hitherto received.

This well known and extensive establishment invites Merchants, Manufacturers, and Bankers, to an investiga-ion of its system, and gratuitous test of its records of the tanding and responsibility of traders in the U. States. Our increased patronage has enabled us, during the past year, to open offices in Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and New Orleans; these, in connection with our long us tablished offices in Boston, New York, and Battimore enable us to offer facilities and advantages which time and experience alone could accumulate, and which we believe are unequalled.

We are prepared to make collections in any of the States, Territories, Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Germany, and in any commercial port of the world, and will pay particular attention to old and doubtful debts, in the collection of which class we have extraordinary facilities, and have been unusually successful.

Having full lists and reports of nearly all the Attorneys in the United States, we are at all times prepared to furnish you, gratuitously, the names of good and responsible lawyers in any part of the United States and Canadas.

Connected with our Agency is a Commissioner for nearly all the States, who is enabled to afford every healtly and legal form for preparing accounts, &c., for immediate use, thereby avoiding a delay often fatal to the collection of a debt.

I am also gratified at the decidedly moral and religious influence which your books will exert, and cannot but hope that they will do much to counteract the effects of that light and immoral literature which deluges the land, and, like the frogs of Egypt, comes up-aven to the kneading troughs of our kitchens. twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single dealt effect here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Physical Colory, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important printiples are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter, while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September), and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).

MORE HOME EVIDENCE.

THE TESTIMONY OF ONE OF OUR LAWYERS.—

Mr. JAS. L. HAMILZON.—DEAR SIR: Although the number and respectability of the testimonials of which you are already in possession, as to the efficacy of your Medicine, "THE GREAT VA. REMEDY," in the diseases which it is designed to cure, are sufficient, in my opinion, to establish its reputation, and secure for it such patronage as will adequately reward you for the discovery of so inestimable a Medicine—yet the great benefit which I have derived from its use, and the salutary effects which I have derived from its use, and the salutary effects which I have derived from its employment in the cases of several friends, to whom I had recommended it, constrain me to contribute, for such use as you may think proper to make of it, this formal acknowledgment of its sanitary virtues. My own case was Dyspepsia of long duration, and very aggravated in its character, manifested by an almost total destruction of the digestive functions, great debility, nervousness, emackation, and impaired appetite, with pain, and a burning sensation in the left side of the chest, palpitation of the heart, vertigo and congestion in the head, and many other symptoms indicative of the worst type of the disease, by the use of three or four bottles of your preparation, been entirely relieved. The cases of my friends, in which your Medicine was taken, were Dyspepsia, Chronic Headaches, and Sore Throat, in all of which it proved effectious, after the trial of a vast number of other remedies without benefit. Your medicine is as pleasant to the taste as a cordial, and in my experience corrects all derangement of the stomach, restores the wasted or enfeebled energies of the digestive organs, and imparts strength and reanimation to the whole system.

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,

Messrs. T. & J. W. Johnson:

Gentlemen—In reply to your letter, I can with great sincerity say, that I entertain a very high opinion of the recent Exchequer Reports. In my judgment they are not excelled by any cotemporaneous Reports, in learning, ability, or general utility and interest. The cases decided are discussed with great care, and expounded with uncommon force. I scarcely know of any volumes which I deem of more importance or value for a Professional Library.

JOSEPH STORY. JOSEPH STORY. CAMBRIDGE, January 25, 1845.

Gentlemen: Your letter of the 24th has been received, in which you ask my opinion as to the value of the English Exchequer Reports, from Price downwards to this time, to an American Lawyer, and as to the expediency of reprinting them in this country. Of the high value of these Reports, both on the Pleas and Equity sides of the Court, I have not the least doubt—the decisions of this Court for the last lifteen or twenty years, both at Equity and in Common Law, being entitled to equal respect with any others in England. I should think an American Lawyer's Library essentially incomplete without them.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours, SIMON GREENLEAF.
